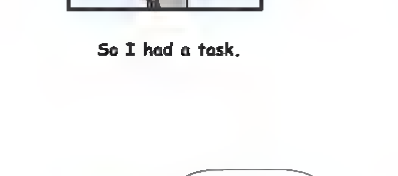
Penguin Loves Mev In the UK

The Internet is Broken

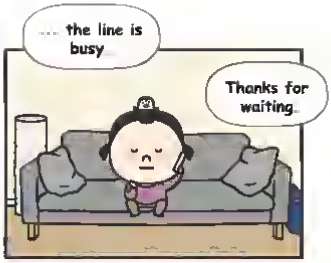
For the last few days
there was a problem with the internet.

So I had a task.



I really don't like calling these kinds of places.

The reason why is...

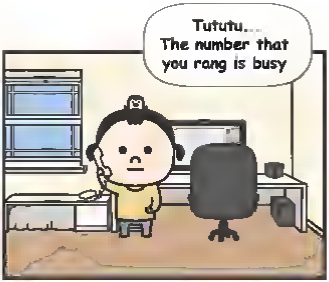


Most of the time,
I have to wait so so long before
I can talk to someone.

After Mev went to work.

I checked out the memo that Mev had left, and tried to call the internet company.

Of course, I couldn't talk to them as the line was busy.



I continuously called them, but every time it didn't connect me to anyone.

The number that you rang is busy

I was irritated.

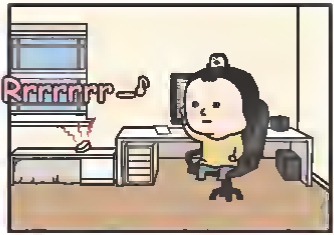
After a while.

Mev called me

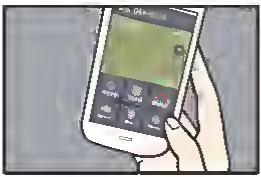
I complained about this ridiculous service to Mev.

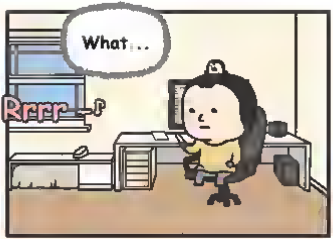
After I hung up the phone.

I called them again.



Rrrrrrrr





What...
Rrrr
